Starkville takes the security and privacy of the information within its control very seriously and has taken steps to prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future.

This letter will serve to inform you of the nature of the Incident, what information may have been impacted, the number of Maine residents being notified, and the steps that Starkville has taken in response to the Incident. We have also enclosed hereto a sample of the notification made to the potentially affected individuals, which includes an offer of complimentary credit monitoring services.

1. Nature of the Incident

On October 23, 2024, Starkville discovered unauthorized activity within its computer network (the "Incident"). Upon discovery of the Incident, Starkville immediately disconnected all access to the network and promptly engaged a specialized third-party incident response firm to assist with securing the environment, as well as, to conduct a comprehensive forensic investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident. The forensic investigation, which concluded on December 11, 2024, determined that an unauthorized user gained limited access to information within Starkville's computer network.

Based on these findings, Starkville engaged a third-party data mining vendor to perform a review of the information to identify the specific individuals and the types of information that may have been affected by the Incident. On April 7, 2025, Starkville finalized the list of individuals to notify. Although Starkville is unaware of any fraudulent misuse of information, it is possible that individuals' full name and Social Security numbers may have been exposed as a result of this unauthorized activity.

As of this writing, Starkville has not received any reports of related identity theft since the date of the incident (October 23, 2024, to present).

2. Number of Maine residents affected.

Based on its investigation, Starkville identified and notified three (3) residents of Maine whose information was impacted as a result of the Incident. Notification letters to these individuals were mailed on May 6, 2025, by U.S. First Class Mail. A sample copy of the notification letter is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. Steps taken in response to the Incident.

Starkville is committed to ensuring the security and privacy of all personal information in its control and has taken and will continue to take steps to prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future. Upon discovery of the Incident, Starkville moved quickly to investigate and respond to the Incident, assessed the security of its systems, and notified the potentially affected individuals. Additionally, Starkville implemented the following data security measures to prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future: deployed endpoint detection and response software for network security; engaged third-party firm specializing in EDR to provide 24/7 monitoring and response services; changed domain usernames and passwords for all network accounts; conducted password reset for all e-mail accounts; implemented multi-factor authentication on remote access systems; and implemented new email security software.

Although Starkville is not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of the affected personal information, Starkville offered twelve (12) months of complimentary credit monitoring and identity theft restoration services through HaystackID to the affected Maine residents to help protect their identity. Additionally, Starkville provided guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including providing information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and the contact details for the Federal Trade Commission.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts We recommend that you remain vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by regularly reviewing your credit reports and financial accounts for any suspicious activity. You should contact the reporting agency using the phone number on the credit report if you find any inaccuracies with your information or if you do not recognize any of the account activity.

You may obtain a free copy of your credit report by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free at 1-877-322-8228, or by mailing a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.annualcreditreport.com) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281. You may also purchase a copy of your credit report for a fee by contacting one or more of the three national credit reporting agencies.

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). The FCRA governs the collection and use of information about you that is reported by consumer reporting agencies. You can obtain additional information about your rights under the FCRA by visiting https://www.ftc.gov/legal-library/browse/statutes/fair-credit-reporting-act.

Credit Freeze You have the right to add, temporarily lift and remove a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit report at no cost. A credit freeze prevents all third parties, such as credit lenders or other companies, whose use is not exempt under law, from accessing your credit file without your consent. If you have a freeze, you must remove or temporarily lift it to apply for credit. Spouses can request freezes for each other as long as they pass authentication. You can also request a freeze for someone if you have a valid Power of Attorney. If you are a parent/guardian/representative you can request a freeze for a minor 15 and younger. To add a security freeze on your credit report you must make a separate request to each of the three national consumer reporting agencies by phone, online, or by mail by following the instructions found at their websites (see "Contact Information" below). The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze: (i) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (ii) Social Security number; (iii) date of birth (month, day, and year); (iv) current address and any previous addresses for the past five (5) years; (v) proof of current address (such as a copy of a government-issued identification card, a recent utility or telephone bill, or bank or insurance statement); and (vi) other personal information as required by the applicable credit reporting agency.

Fraud Alert You have the right to add, extend, or remove a fraud alert on your credit file at no cost. A fraud alert is a statement that is added to your credit file that will notify potential credit grantors that you may be or have been a victim of identity theft. Before they extend credit, they should use reasonable procedures to verify your identity. Please note that, unlike a credit freeze, a fraud alert only notifies lenders to verify your identity before extending new credit, but it does not block access to your credit report. Fraud alerts are free to add and are valid for one year. Victims of identity theft can obtain an extended fraud alert for seven years. You can add a fraud alert by sending your request to any one of the three national reporting agencies by phone, online, or by mail by following the instructions found at their websites (see "Contact Information" below). The agency you contact will then contact the other credit agencies.

Contact Information Below is the contact information for the three national credit reporting agencies (Experian, Equifax, and TranUnion) if you would like to add a fraud alert or credit freeze to your credit report.
