Monitor Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers can place a free fraud alert on their credit file. An initial alert lasts one year, requiring businesses to verify identity before granting credit. Identity theft victims qualify for a seven-year extended alert. Contact the three major credit bureaus to set up a fraud alert.

Alternatively, consumers can request a free credit freeze, blocking access to their credit report without authorization. This prevents unauthorized accounts but may delay approval for future credit applications. Federal law prohibits fees for placing or lifting a freeze. To initiate, individuals may need to provide some or all the following information.

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

The FTC also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim.
