Notice of Data Breach

Dear JOHN SMITH,

WCAS Management, L.P. ("WCAS") is writing to share with you some important information regarding a recent incident involving your personal information.

What Happened? On August 1, 2025, we detected unauthorized activity on our internal network, which we subsequently determined was a ransomware attack. The threat actor was present in our environment for less than 24 hours before containment, with access occurring from July 31, 2025 through August 1, 2025. Upon discovering the incident, we isolated affected systems, initiated an incident response protocol using internal and external resources (including outside cybersecurity and forensics experts), and notified federal law enforcement. Our experts conducted a comprehensive review of our internal network and assisted with eradication of the threat actor. We also took steps to enhance our systems to further safeguard our information.

What Information Was Involved? The threat actor exfiltrated a limited number of files that primarily contained information relating to fund activity. Personal information involved varied by individual but may have included your name, address, date of birth, investment information (e.g., fund activity, performance), financial account information, Social Security Number, and/or other tax identification number.

What We Are Doing. We have engaged a third party to conduct dark web monitoring. To date, there has been no indication that the threat actor has leaked or otherwise disclosed or misused any exfiltrated data.

What You Can Do. While we are not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of personal information or any financial harm to involved individuals as a result of this incident, as a protective measure, we are providing notice of this incident and the credit monitoring and identity protection services described below, so that you may take further steps to help protect your personal information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

As always, we encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review your account statements, and to monitor your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. The enclosed "General Information About Identity Theft Protection" section provides additional information about what you can do.

Credit Freeze for Credit Reporting Agencies

You also have the right to put a security freeze, also known as a credit freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a Personal Identification Number (PIN) that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to access your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. It is free to place, lift or remove a security freeze. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit report at each credit bureau. To do so, you must contact the credit bureaus by phone, mail, or secure electronic means:

Equifax
P.O. Box 105788
Atlanta, GA 30348-5788
1-888-378-4329

Experian
P.O. Box 9554
Allen, TX 75013-9554

TransUnion
P.O. Box 160
Woodlyn, PA 19094
1-800-916-8800
www.transunion.com/credit-freeze

To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following:

- Your full name (including middle initial, Jr., Sr., Roman numerals, etc.),
- Social Security number

- Date of birth
- Address(es) where you have lived over the prior five years
- Proof of current address such as a current utility bill
- A photocopy of a government-issued ID card
- If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft

If you request a freeze online or by phone, the agency must place the freeze within one business day. The credit bureaus have three business days after receiving a request by mail to place a security freeze on your credit report, and they must also send confirmation to you within five business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the freeze to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must contact the credit reporting agencies and include (1) proper identification; (2) the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze; and (3) the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available.

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have consumer reporting agencies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. For more information about the FCRA, please visit https://files.consumerfinance.gov/f/documents/bcfp_consumer-rights-summary_2018-09.pdf or www.ftc.gov.

Steps You Can Take if You Are a Victim of Identity Theft

File a police report. Get a copy of the report to submit to your creditors and others that may require proof of a crime.

Contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission (FTC). The FTC provides useful information to identity theft victims and maintains a database of identity theft cases for use by law enforcement agencies. File a report with the FTC by calling the FTC's Identity Theft Hotline: 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338); online at <http://www.ftc.gov/idtheft>; or by mail at Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

Keep a record of your contacts. Start a file with copies of your credit reports, the police reports, any correspondence, and copies of disputed bills. It is helpful to log conversations with creditors, law enforcement officials, and other relevant parties.

Take Steps to Avoid Identity Theft

Further information can be obtained from the FTC about steps to take to avoid identity theft at: <http://www.ftc.gov/idtheft>; calling 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338); or write to Consumer Response Center, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.
