

Appendix

As previously reported on March 17, 2026, Eurail B.V. (“Eurail”) identified unusual activity within a segment of its network. Eurail immediately implemented its incident response procedures, took measures to terminate the activity, and commenced an investigation with the support of third-party cybersecurity professionals. Eurail also notified law enforcement and is supporting its investigation.

Eurail identified evidence that the unauthorized actor transferred files from its network on December 26, 2025. Eurail posted a notice to customers on its website and reviewed the files involved. On February 25, 2026, Eurail determined the files contained the names and passport numbers of 206 Vermont residents.

On March 25, 2026, Eurail is mailing notification letters to the Vermont residents via United States First-Class mail. A copy of the notification letter template is enclosed. The letter explains what happened, what information was involved, what Eurail is doing, and what the individuals can do in response. Eurail has established a dedicated call center that individuals can call with questions about the incident.

To help prevent something like this from happening again, Eurail has taken steps to enhance its existing security measures.

Dear <First Name Last Name>,

Eurail B.V. understands the importance of protecting information. We are writing to inform you that we experienced a cyber incident that involved some of your information. This letter explains what happened, the measures we have taken, and some steps you may consider taking in response.

What Happened? We recently identified unusual activity within a segment of our network. We immediately implemented our incident response procedures, took steps to terminate the activity, and commenced an investigation with the support of third-party cybersecurity professionals. We also notified law enforcement and are supporting its investigation.

The evidence showed that an unauthorized actor transferred files from our network on December 26, 2025. We reviewed the files involved and, on February 25, 2026, determined that they contained some of your information.

What Information Was Involved? The information included your <data elements>.

What We Are Doing. We wanted to notify you of this incident and assure you that we take it seriously. To help prevent something similar in the future, we have taken steps to enhance our existing security measures.

What You Can Do. As a precaution, we recommend staying alert to suspicious messages or activity, especially requests for your information. If in doubt, never share your information with someone who contacts you unsolicited or who claims to work for Eurail. For more information about steps you can take to protect your information, please review the pages that follow this letter.

For More Information. If you have any questions about this, please call 1-833-319-9486, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Eastern, excluding major U.S. holidays.

Sincerely,

Eurail B.V.

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

We remind you it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1-877-322-8228. Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

- Equifax, PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-888-378-4329
- Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742
- TransUnion, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-833-799-5355

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

- Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.identitytheft.gov

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act: The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Your major rights under the FCRA are summarized below. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.
- You have the right to know what is in your file.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.
- Access to your file is limited.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.
- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report.

- You have a right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization.
- You may seek damages from violators.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights.
