NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear <<Full Name>>,

Restaurant Management Company is writing to inform you of a data-security incident that potentially affected some of your information. We are providing this notice to give you information about what happened, what we are doing in response, and how you can enroll in our offer of free credit monitoring and identity-theft-protection services.

WHAT HAPPENED

On October 13, 2025, we detected suspicious activity on our systems. We immediately took steps to secure our systems and began working with cybersecurity experts to assist us in the investigation. Based on the investigation, we believe that an unauthorized third party gained access to a portion of our computer systems from October 4, 2025, to October 13, 2025. Once we identified the potentially affected files, we engaged a data-review firm to review the content of those files. We received those results on February 12, 2026. We have been working since that time to determine who needs notice and to compile current contact information for notifying those affected individuals. We are now reaching out to those individuals.

Our investigation determined that some combination of the following types of information related to you was contained in the affected systems: <<Data Elements>>

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

Remain vigilant – We encourage you to remain vigilant for fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports. You can also find additional suggestions at www.IdentityTheft.gov/.

- You should confirm that your credit card company has the correct address on file for you and that all charges on the account are legitimate. If you discover errors or suspicious activity, you should immediately contact the credit card company and inform them that you have received this letter.
- You should obtain and review a free copy of your credit report by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com or calling (877) 322-8228. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once per week. We recommend you do so and if the report is incorrect, you should contact the appropriate consumer reporting agency—Equifax, Experian, or TransUnion.
 - Equifax. PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374 | (800) 685-1111 | www.equifax.com
 - Experian. PO Box 9701, Allen, TX 75013 | (888) 397-3742 | www.experian.com
 - TransUnion. PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016 | (888) 909-8872 | www.transunion.com
- You should also consider contacting the Federal Trade Commission for more details on protecting yourself from fraud or identity theft as well as fraud alerts and security freezes (both of which are discussed below). You can send a letter to the Federal Trade Commission at 600 Pennsylvania Ave NW, Washington, DC 20580; call them at (877) 438-4338; or visit their website, www.ftc.gov.

Consider placing a fraud alert or security freeze on your credit file – Consumer reporting agencies have tools you can use to protect your credit, including fraud alerts and security freezes.

- A fraud alert is a cautionary flag you can place on your credit file to notify companies extending you credit that they should take special precautions to verify your identity. A fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit report for one (1) year, but you can renew it. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any new accounts in your name. You can contact any of the three consumer reporting agencies to place fraud alerts with each agency.
- A security freeze is a more dramatic step that will prevent others from accessing your credit report, which makes it harder for someone to open an account in your name. You must contact each consumer reporting agency separately to order a security freeze, and they may require you to provide them with your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, and current and previous addresses. There is no fee for requesting, temporarily lifting, or permanently removing a security freeze with any of the consumer reporting agencies. You can obtain more information about security freezes by contacting the consumer reporting agencies or the Federal Trade Commission.

Report suspicious activity – If you believe you are the victim of identity theft, consider (1) notifying your Attorney General, local law enforcement, or the Federal Trade Commission; (2) filing a police report and requesting a copy of that report; and (3) visiting www.IdentityTheft.gov/ to report the issue and get recovery steps.

Consider additional helpful resources – Your state attorney general may have more information on fraud alerts, security freezes, and steps to protect yourself from fraud or identity theft.
