

EXHIBIT 1

This notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Lautrec, Ltd. (“Lautrec”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On September 21, 2025, Lautrec became aware of suspicious activity within their network. In response, Lautrec promptly took steps to secure their network and initiated a comprehensive investigation to determine the full nature and scope of the activity with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists. The investigation determined that on September 20, 2025, certain files within Lautrec’s network were accessed and copied without authorization. Lautrec identified the affected files and engaged a data review vendor to complete a time-intensive and comprehensive review of the files to identify personal information contained therein and to whom the information relates. This process was recently completed.

The information related to the Maine resident includes: name and Social Security number.

Notice to Maine Resident

On May 8, 2026, Lautrec provided written notice of this event to approximately one (1) Maine resident. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon learning of the event, Lautrec promptly commenced an investigation and response that included confirming the security of their network, investigating to determine the information that was impacted, and reviewing the contents of relevant data for sensitive information. As part of Lautrec’s ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in their care, they are implementing additional security measures to further protect against similar events occurring in the future. Lautrec also reported this event to federal law enforcement. Although Lautrec is not aware of any identity theft or fraud as a result of this event, in an abundance of caution, Lautrec is providing individuals with access to complimentary credit monitoring and identity theft protection services for twelve (12) months, through TransUnion.

Additionally, Lautrec is providing individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud. Lautrec is providing written notice of this event to relevant privacy regulators and to the major U.S. credit reporting agencies.

The investigation determined that on September 20, 2025, certain files within Lautrec’s network were accessed and copied without authorization. Lautrec identified the affected files and engaged a data review vendor to complete a time-intensive and comprehensive review of the files to identify personal information contained therein and to whom the information relates. This process was recently completed, and we are notifying you because the review determined certain information related to you was contained within the affected files.

What Information Was Involved? The review determined your name and the following types of information related to you were present in the affected files at the time of the event: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Please note that we do not have any indication of actual or attempted misuse of your information as a result of this event.

What We Are Doing. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of personal information within our care are among Lautrec’s highest priorities. Upon learning of the event, we promptly commenced an investigation and response that included confirming the security of our network, investigating to determine the information that was impacted, and reviewing the contents of relevant data for sensitive information. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in our care, we are implementing additional security measures to further protect against similar incidents occurring in the future. We also reported this event to federal law enforcement.

As an added precaution, we are offering you immediate access to complimentary credit monitoring and identity theft protection services for twelve (12) months through Cyberscout, a TransUnion company. You can find information on how to enroll in these services in the enclosed Steps You Can Take To Help Protect Personal Information. We encourage you to consider enrolling in these services as we are not able to do so on your behalf.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. You can review the enclosed Steps You Can Take To Help Protect Personal Information to learn helpful tips on steps you can take to protect against possible information misuse, should you feel it appropriate to do so. You may also enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring services we are offering to you.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this event that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions or need assistance, please call our dedicated assistance line at [REDACTED] Monday through Friday, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. Eastern Time. Please note that when signing up for monitoring services, you may be asked to verify personal information for your own protection to confirm your identity.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one (1) free credit report annually from each of the three (3) major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit <http://www.annualcreditreport.com> or call, toll-free, 1 (877) 322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three (3) major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one (1) year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven (7) years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three (3) major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two (2) to five (5) years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect their personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; <https://www.identitytheft.gov>; 1 (877) ID-THEFT (1 (877) 438-4338); and TTY: 1 (866) 653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement, the relevant state Attorney General, and the Federal Trade Commission. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and <https://oag.dc.gov>. Lautrec is located at 31550 Northwestern Highway, Suite 200, Farmington Hills, MI 48334.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting https://www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504\_cfpb\_summary\_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

For New York residents, the New York Attorney General may be contacted at: Office of the Attorney General, The Capitol, Albany, NY 12224-0341; 1 (800) 771-7755; or <https://ag.ny.gov>.
