<<b2b_text_1 (NOTICE OF A DATA BREACH)>>

Dear <<First_name>>,

MAS Law is writing to notify you about an event that may have impacted some of your sensitive personal information. This notice provides details about the event, measures we have taken in response, and additional steps you can take to help protect your sensitive personal information, if you feel it is necessary to do so.

What Happened? On July 27, 2025, we became aware of a potential issue involving our information systems. We immediately took steps to secure our systems and, with the assistance of a third-party forensics team, investigate the extent of this activity. With the team's help, we determined that an unauthorized party accessed some of our systems between July 13, 2025 and July 28, 2025.

What Information Was Involved? As part of our investigation, we assessed what sensitive personal information may have been impacted in connection with the event. We concluded this assessment on April 20, 2026 and determined that the sensitive personal information of certain individuals, including you, may have been affected. Such sensitive personal information may include your <<b2b_text_2 (name, contact information, + Data Elements)>>.

What We Are Doing. In response to the event, we contacted and worked with law enforcement and notified regulators. Following the event, to prevent something similar from occurring, we also implemented additional technical security measures to further protect our systems. In addition, out of an abundance of caution and at no cost to you, we have secured the services of Kroll to provide <<ServiceTerminMonths>> months of identity monitoring services. Visit <https://enroll.krollmonitoring.com> to activate and take advantage of your identity monitoring services. You have until <<b2b_text_6 (ActivationDeadline)>> to activate your identity monitoring services. Your membership number is: <<Membership Number s_n>>. For more information about Kroll and your identity monitoring services, you can visit info.krollmonitoring.com.

What You Can Do. We encourage you, as a best practice, to remain vigilant to the possibility of fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring free credit reports for any unauthorized activity and reporting any such activity.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this event that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please call (844) 959-7077, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Central Time, excluding major U.S. holidays. Please have your membership number available when you call.

Sincerely,
MAS Law

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF YOUR IDENTITY MONITORING SERVICES

You have been provided with access to the following services from Kroll:

Single Bureau Credit Monitoring

You will receive alerts when there are changes to your credit data—for instance, when a new line of credit is applied for in your name. If you do not recognize the activity, you'll have the option to call a Kroll fraud specialist, who will be able to help you determine if it is an indicator of identity theft. To receive credit services, you must be over the age of 18 and have established credit in the U.S., have a Social Security number in your name, and have a U.S. residential address associated with your credit file.

Fraud Consultation

You have unlimited access to consultation with a Kroll fraud specialist. Support includes showing you the most effective ways to protect your identity, explaining your rights and protections under the law, assistance with fraud alerts, and interpreting how personal information is accessed and used, including investigating suspicious activity that could be tied to an identity theft event.

Identity Theft Restoration

If you become a victim of identity theft, an experienced Kroll licensed investigator will work on your behalf to resolve related issues. You will have access to a dedicated investigator who understands your issues and can do most of the work for you. Your investigator will be able to dig deep to uncover the scope of the identity theft, and then work to resolve it.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Review Account Statements and Credit Reports

Individuals should remain vigilant, including for incidents of fraud and identity theft, by reviewing account statements and monitoring credit reports. Under federal law, an individual may be entitled every 12 months to one free copy of the individual's credit report from each of the three major credit reporting companies. To obtain a free annual credit report, go to www.annualcreditreport.com or call 1-877-322-8228. Individuals may wish to stagger their requests so that they receive free reports from one of the three credit bureaus every four months.

Place a Fraud Alert or Credit Freeze/Security Freeze

Individuals can place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on an individual's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert displayed on an individual's credit file, a business must verify the individual's identity before extending new credit. Victims of identity theft may be entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. To place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, an individual has the right to place a "credit freeze" (also referred to as a "security freeze") on a credit report free of charge, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the individual's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in the individual's name without the individual's consent. Note that using a credit freeze to control who can access an individual's personal and financial information in the individual's credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application the individual makes regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, an individual cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on the individual's credit report. The following information will need to be provided to request a credit freeze: (1) Full name (including middle initial, as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.); (2) Social Security number; (3) Date of birth; (4) Addresses for the prior two to five years; (5) Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill; (6) A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and (7) A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if the individual is a victim of identity theft.

Other Steps For Consideration

Individuals may educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, security breach response, identity theft prevention and protection, and the steps they can take to protect personal information by contacting the individual reporting bureaus (as described above), the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. In particular, the Federal Trade Commission encourages those who discover their information has been misused to file a complaint. Individuals can obtain further information on filing such a complaint by using the contact information listed below.

An individual can file a police report in the event of identity theft or fraud. Please note that to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, an individual will likely need to provide some proof of the identity theft. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notification was not delayed as a result of a law enforcement investigation.

All U.S. Residents: Individuals may contact and obtain information from the Federal Trade Commission at Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW Washington, DC 20580; 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338); TTY: 1-866-653-4261; or www.consumer.gov/idtheft.

Maryland Residents: Individuals may contact and obtain information from the Maryland Attorney General at 200 St. Paul Place, 16th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202; 1-410-528-8662 or 1-888-743-0023; or www.oag.state.md.us.

Massachusetts Residents: Individuals can file a police report in the event of identity theft or fraud. Under Massachusetts law, an individual may have the right to file and obtain a copy of a police report. Individuals may also have the right to request a security freeze, as described above. Individuals may contact and obtain information from the Massachusetts Attorney General at One Ashburton Place, Boston, MA 02108; 1-617-727-8400; or www.mass.gov/ago/contact-us.html. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the Attorney General.

New Mexico Residents: Individuals have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit files, the right to ask for their credit scores, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the individual reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to individuals' files is limited; individuals must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; individuals may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in credit reports; and individuals may seek damages from violators. Individuals may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. For more information about rights available under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

New York Residents: Individuals may contact and obtain information from the New York Office of the Attorney General at The Capitol, Albany, NY 12224-0341; 1-800-771-7755; or <https://ag.ny.gov/>.

North Carolina Residents: Individuals may contact and obtain information from the North Carolina Attorney General at 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001; 1-877-566-7226 or 1-919-716-6000; or www.ncdoj.gov.

Rhode Island Residents: Individuals may contact and obtain information from the Rhode Island Attorney General at 150 South Main Street, Providence, RI 02903; 1-401-272-4400; or www.riag.ri.gov. Under Rhode Island law, individuals have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this event. There is approximately one Rhode Island resident potentially impacted by this event. Please note that individuals may be required to pay fees in connection with certain services provided by consumer reporting agencies.

Washington, D.C. Residents: Individuals may have the right to request a security freeze, as described above. Individuals may contact and obtain information from the Office of the Attorney General for the District of Columbia at 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, DC 20001; 202-727-3400; or oag@dc.gov.
