IMPORTANT INFORMATION
PLEASE REVIEW CAREFULLY

Dear Compliance Officer:

We are writing to let you know that Aesto, LLC ("Aesto") experienced a cyber incident that involved information your organization entrusted to us. We take this matter seriously and want to provide you with a clear account of what happened, what we've done in response, and what steps are available to you.

What Happened?

On or about December 18, 2025, Aesto experienced a network security incident that impacted a limited portion of our Amazon Web Services ("AWS") infrastructure. Our core data platform, where your live archive resides, was not compromised. Upon learning of the issue, we immediately launched a thorough investigation with experienced external cybersecurity professionals to determine whether sensitive information had been accessed and/or acquired. On May 26, 2026, we confirmed that between on or about December 2, 2025, and December 18, 2025, a limited amount of information stored in our network may have been accessed and/or acquired by an unauthorized actor through forensic analysis. However, your organization's information was not amongst the impacted data contained on the threat actor's list.

What Information Was Involved?

The affected information includes protected health information of certain individuals affiliated with your organization, consisting of full names, dates of birth, medical information, driver's license numbers, financial account numbers only, health insurance information, individual taxpayer identification numbers, other government ID numbers, and Social Security numbers. Not all individuals had Social Security numbers impacted. The list of affected individuals and specific data elements involved for each person will be provided to your organization upon request (see Next Steps below).

What We Are Doing.

As part of our investigation, we worked with cybersecurity professionals to secure our network. We have reset credentials, enhanced our security measures and monitoring tools, and are reviewing our existing policies and training protocols to help prevent similar incidents in the future. This was an isolated incident, and we are taking all necessary actions to address the situation and reduce risk going forward. We are providing an attestation from our cybersecurity professionals detailing the root cause of the incident, the steps we took to remediate and harden our network, and confirmation that no further unauthorized activity has been observed.

Attestation of Security Investigation

January 23, 2026

On December 18, 2025, McDonald Hopkins as Legal Counsel (“Counsel”) on behalf of Aesto Health (“Aesto”) engaged GuidePoint Security, LLC (“GuidePoint”) to perform Incident Response services. GuidePoint utilized Aesto’s existing security tools and data sources and deployed supplemental tools to establish broad environmental visibility as outlined below. GuidePoint leveraged industry standard Incident Response techniques and tools to the best extent possible to identify the intrusion vector, signs of data theft, and other threat actor related activity. GuidePoint has made every effort to perform a thorough and comprehensive analysis and to provide appropriate recommendations. GuidePoint is bound by defined scope, allocated time, therefore this investigation is the result of a point-in-time assessment based on the state of the Aesto’s environment at the conclusion of the investigation.

REMEDIATION SUMMARY

Based on the available data, GuidePoint was able to determine that Aesto was the victim of a cyber incident with an earliest known date of December 2, 2025.

GuidePoint has been able to identify how the threat actor breached the network, the accounts that the threat actor managed to compromise, the changes the threat actor made to existing AWS Lambda functions, and other threat actor actions taken during the dwell time on the network. Based on these findings and other best practices, Aesto has taken numerous security steps to remediate this incident and to harden their defense posture moving forward. Some of these steps include:

1. Closed the security gaps exploited by the threat actor to gain access to the network.
2. Deleted the impacted Lambda functions.
3. Rotated all impacted AWS secrets.
4. Deleted unauthorized files uploaded by the threat actor.

Based on these steps and the continuing monitoring of the network, GuidePoint has not observed any threat actor activity on the network since December 18, 2025.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

We recommend that you remain vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by regularly reviewing your credit reports and financial accounts for any suspicious activity. You should contact the reporting agency using the phone number on the credit report if you find any inaccuracies with your information or if you do not recognize any of the account activity. You may obtain a free copy of your credit report by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free at 1-877-322-8228, or by mailing a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.annualcreditreport.com) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281. You may also purchase a copy of your credit report for a fee by contacting one or more of the three national credit reporting agencies. You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). The FCRA governs the collection and use of information about you that is reported by consumer reporting agencies. You can obtain additional information about your rights under the FCRA by visiting <https://www.ftc.gov/legal-library/browse/statutes/fair-credit-reporting-act>.

Credit Freeze

You have the right to add, temporarily lift and remove a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit report at no cost. A credit freeze prevents all third parties, such as credit lenders or other companies, whose use is not exempt under law, from accessing your credit file without your consent. If you have a freeze, you must remove or temporarily lift it to apply for credit. Spouses can request freezes for each other as long as they pass authentication. You can also request a freeze for someone if you have a valid Power of Attorney. If you are a parent/guardian/representative, you can request a freeze for a minor 15 and younger. To add a security freeze on your credit report you must make a separate request to each of the three national consumer reporting agencies by phone, online, or by mail by following the instructions found at their websites (see “Contact Information” below). The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze: (i) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (ii) Social Security number; (iii) date of birth (month, day, and year); (iv) current address and any previous addresses for the past five (5) years; (v) proof of current address (such as a copy of a government-issued identification card, a recent utility or telephone bill, or bank or insurance statement); and (vi) other personal information as required by the applicable credit reporting agency.

Fraud Alert

You have the right to add, extend, or remove a fraud alert on your credit file at no cost. A fraud alert is a statement that is added to your credit file that will notify potential credit grantors that you may be or have been a victim of identity theft. Before they extend credit, they should use reasonable procedures to verify your identity. Please note that, unlike a credit freeze, a fraud alert only notifies lenders to verify your identity before extending new credit, but it does not block access to your credit report. Fraud alerts are free to add and are valid for one year. Victims of identity theft can obtain an extended fraud alert for seven years. You can add a fraud alert by sending your request to any one of the three national reporting agencies by phone, online, or by mail by following the instructions found at their websites (see “Contact Information” below). The agency you contact will then contact the other credit agencies.

Federal Trade Commission

For more information about credit freezes and fraud alerts and other steps you can take to protect yourself against identity theft, you can contact the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) at 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, www.identitytheft.gov, 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338), TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. You should also report instances of known or suspected identity theft to local law enforcement and the Attorney General’s office in your home state and you have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of your police report.
