

NOTICE OF DATA SECURITY INCIDENT

FMRS Health Systems, Inc. (“FMRS”) is providing notice of an event that may affect certain individuals’ information. Although we have no indication of identity theft or fraud in relation to this event, we are providing information about the event, the response, and additional measures individuals can take to help protect their information, should they feel it appropriate to do so. FMRS’ electronic health record (“EHR”) and email systems were not impacted as a result of this incident.

On February 27, 2026, FMRS identified irregular activity on certain computer systems within its network. We promptly took steps to secure the network and investigate what took place. While the investigation is ongoing at this time, FMRS determined there was unauthorized access to certain systems from January 20, 2026 to February 27, 2026, at which time files were copied. We are in the process of reviewing the impacted information to identify what personal information could have been accessed or copied. Based on the information known at this time, the types of information potentially affected by this event may include: name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, driver’s license number, financial account information, medical history information, diagnostic information, treatment information, prescription information, physician information, medical record number, and health insurance information. Not all patients are impacted; and, impacted information per individual may vary.

We take the confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in its care seriously. Upon discovering the incident, we promptly launched an investigation to confirm the full nature and scope of the incident and took prompt steps to ensure security of the environment. We also notified law enforcement and applicable regulators. FMRS encourages individuals to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing their account statements and credit reports for any unauthorized or suspicious activity. Individuals can also review the Steps Individuals Can Take to Help Protect Their Information below for further guidance.

Individuals who have questions about the incident that are not addressed in this notice may contact us directly. Representatives are available to assist you with questions from 8AM to 5PM Monday through Friday, excluding holidays at 304-256-7100. You may also write to FMRS at 101 South Eisenhower Drive, Beckley, WV 25801.

STEPS INDIVIDUALS CAN TAKE TO HELP PROTECT THEIR INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer's name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
